1 SUMMARY OF OPPORTUNITY

This section describes the purpose of the Request for Qualifications and provides information about this procurement, including the potential scope of the opportunity.

1.1 ACQUISITION AUTHORITY

Under the authority granted to the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission (State Parks) in accordance with Chapter 39.80 RCW, the purpose of this Request for Qualifications is to select a consultant or consultant team for the professional services described herein.

1.2 PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The Washington State Parks (State Parks) intends to enter into an agreement with a consulting firm experienced with mountain biking trail design and capable of creating 100% bid ready construction documents based on the recommendations outlined in the assessment report suitable for a design bid build (DBB) delivery method. The trail design is specifically for the Upper 290 Mountain Bike Trail at Mount Spokane State Park.

Mount Spokane State Park is Washington State Parks & Recreation Commission's ("State Parks") largest state park at 12,444 acres and contains the largest, in-park trail system at 97.3 miles. The construction of Upper 290 Trail as a downhill directional bike trail was identified in the park's 2014 Trail Plan as a trail to-be-built to "...local mountain bike community preferences." The 1.2-mile trail was volunteer-constructed primarily with hand tools and opened for use in 2023.

While the trail is popular and receives consistent use, the current alignment consists of inadequate turning radii, trail intersections that fail to manage downhill speed and soil composed of volcanic ash resulting in excessive erosion, negatively impacting natural resources while also creating a maintenance-intensive trail. To address these issues, State Parks hired a consultant to perform an assessment of the trail and provide recommendations for correction in the Fall 2023. The assessment report (see attached) suggested modifications at several points along the trail that together would address the issues identified above.

Evaluations of subjective material (Appendix C) will be conducted by the evaluation team. State Parks has sole discretion over the selection of evaluators and will make such selections based on each potential evaluator's knowledge, skills, and experience with the subject matter. Each evaluator will independently grade and score the Consultant's material based on their own independent judgment, and in accordance with the format noted below for each respective requirement. Evaluators will only evaluate the material contained in the Responses and will not incorporate outside material into their determinations. Each evaluator has sole discretion over his or her final scores.

Consultants should take every precaution to assure that all answers are clear, complete, and directly responsive to each specific requirement.

5.3 SELECTION PROCESS

The selection process includes two potential phases. Phase 1 involves firms submitting their Statements of Qualifications (SOQs), which are scored and ranked based on the evaluation criteria specified in this RFQ. Following this, Phase 2, which is an optional Oral Presentation, may occur at the discretion of the evaluation team. If conducted, the highest-scoring firms from Phase 1, known as Finalists, will be invited to participate. In Phase 2, these Finalists are scored and ranked according to specific evaluation criteria for this phase.

The firm with the highest rank in Phase 2, if it takes place, will be chosen to enter negotiations to provide consultant services for this project. Please note that scores from Phase 1 and Phase 2 are not combined.

Should contract negotiations fail to be completed within a reasonable timeframe after initiation, State Parks may immediately cease contract negotiations and declare the firm with the next highest score as the new apparent most qualified firm and enter into contract negotiations with that firm.

5.4 SOQ EVALUATION CRITERIA (PHASE 1)

State Parks will use the below-noted point totals in its evaluation of the required materials.

5.7 SELECTION OF APPARENT SUCCESSFUL CONSULTANT

Note: The Consultant meeting all responsive criteria and having the highest final cumulative score will be selected as the Apparent Successful Consultant (ASC).

State Parks will notify the Apparent Successful Consultant(s) and the non-successful Consultants via email.

5.8 ANNOUNCEMENT OF APPARENT SUCCESSFUL CONSULTANT

Following the announcement of the ASC, Consultants may request a Debrief conference. The Consultant will have a short period of time to request the Debrief conference. NOTE: a Debrief conference is a mandatory prerequisite for any Consultant desiring to protest the award.

6 DEBRIEF AND PROTESTS

This section identifies how debriefings and protests for this Request for Qualifications are processed.

6.1 DEBRIEFING OF UNSUCCESSFUL CONSULTANTS

Consultants who submitted a Response will be given the opportunity for a debriefing conference. The Procurement Coordinator must receive the request for a debriefing conference within three (3) business days after the notification of unsuccessful Consultant email is sent. The debriefing shall be held within three (3) business days of the request.

Discussion will be limited to a critique of the requesting Consultant's Response including the factors considered in the evaluation of that Response and the Consultant's performance with regard to the solicitation requirements. Comparisons between Responses or evaluations of the other Responses will not be allowed. Debriefing conferences may be conducted in person or on the telephone and will be scheduled for a maximum of thirty (30) minutes.

6.2 PROCUREMENT RECORDS DISCLOSURE

A consultant may request copies of the solicitation and evaluation documents or inspect them to assess the efficacy of filing a protest. Such requests must be submitted online to the State Parks Public Records Center. State Parks will respond within five business days of receiving the request.

The requested documents will either be sent to or made available to the requesting Consultant, except for any portions of the documents that have been identified as Proprietary Information. State Parks will follow the process set forth in Section 7.14 Public Disclosure & Proprietary Information, before disclosing any portions of Responses that have been identified as Proprietary Information.

If more time is needed, State Parks will inform the requestor of the date the requested documents will be available.

6.3 PROTESTS

Consultants protesting this procurement shall follow the procedures described in below. Protests that do not follow these procedures shall not be considered. This protest procedure constitutes the sole administrative remedy available to the Consultant under this procurement. State Parks will not accept any protest before the announcement of the Apparent Successful Consultant.

The protest procedure is only available to Consultants who submitted a response to this RFQ and who have participated in a debriefing conference. State Parks must receive a protest within five (5) business days of the debriefing.

6.4 GROUNDS FOR PROTEST

A protest may be made based only on the following grounds:

- A matter of bias, discrimination, or conflict of interest on the part of an evaluator;
- Errors in computing the scores; or
- Non-compliance with the procedures established in this Procurement document.

Protests not based on these grounds will not be considered. Protests will be rejected as without merit if they address issues such as: 1) An evaluator's professional judgment on the quality of a Response, or 2) State Parks' assessment of its own needs or requirements.

6.5 PROTEST FORM AND CONTENT

A Protest must state all of the facts and arguments upon which the Protest is based, and the grounds for the Protest. It must be in writing, clear and concise, and signed by a person authorized to bind the Consultant to a contractual relationship. At a minimum, the Protest must include:

- The name of the protesting Consultant, mailing address and phone number, and the name of the individual responsible for submission of the Protest;
- The RFQ number and title
- A detailed and complete statement of the specific State Parks actions under Protest;
- The grounds for the Protest;
- Description of the relief or corrective action requested. Consultant may attach supporting documentation to their Protest as they deem necessary and proper.

6.6 SUBMITTING A PROTEST

Protests must be in writing, must be signed by the Consultant and must be received by the State Parks Procurement Coordinator at the address below within five (5) Business Days after the debriefing conference. All protests shall be emailed to the Procurement Coordinator as follows:

Email: contracts@parks.wa.gov

The subject Line: RFQ # Protest by [Your firm's name].

Upon State Parks' receipt of a protest, a review and investigation will be conducted by a neutral party that had no involvement in the evaluation and award process. The reviewer will conduct an objective review of the Protest, based on the contents of the written Protest and the RFQ and any amendments, the Responses, all documents showing evaluation and scoring of the Responses record and any other pertinent information and issue a decision within ten (10) business days of receipt of the protest, unless additional time is needed. If additional time is needed, the protesting Consultant will be notified of the delay.

State Parks will make a final determination on the protest; in accordance with such findings, State Parks will:

- a. Find the protest lacking in merit and uphold State Parks' action; or
- b. Find only technical or harmless errors in State Parks' acquisition process and determine State Parks to be in substantial compliance and reject the protest; or
- c. Find merit in the protest and provide State Parks options which may include:
 - 1) that State Parks correct the errors and re-evaluate all Responses;
 - 2) that State Parks reissue the RFQ document and begin a new process;
 - 3) other courses of action as appropriate.

If the reviewer determines that the protest is without merit, State Parks may enter into a contract with the Apparent Successful Consultant. If the protest is determined to have merit, State Parks will take the appropriate alternative as noted in the preceding paragraph.

7 ADDITIONAL GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR ALL CONSULTANTS

This section identifies additional provisions for this Request for Qualifications.

7.1 ANNOUNCEMENT AND SPECIAL INFORMATION

By responding to this RFQ, a Consultant acknowledges they have read and understand the entire RFQ and accepts all information contained within the RFQ without modification.

7.2 CONTRACTING WITH CURRENT OR FORMER STATE EMPLOYEES

Specific restrictions apply to contracting with current or former state employees pursuant to chapter 42.52 of the Revised Code of Washington (RCW). Those restrictions also apply to any Consultant submitting a Response under this RFQ who has hired a former state employee. Consultants should familiarize themselves with the requirements prior to submitting a Response that includes current or former state employees.

7.3 AMENDMENTS TO THE RFQ

State Parks reserves the right to revise this RFQ. All changes will be made by written amendment. All official amendments will be posted in WEBS and will automatically become incorporated as part of this RFQ. If there are any conflict between amendments, or between an amendment and the RFQ, whichever document was issued last in time will be controlling.

Amendments will be made in consideration to the overall timeline; State Parks will determine whether extensions to the timeline are necessary.

7.4 RESPONSIVENESS OF CONSULTANT'S RESPONSE

Each Consultant is specifically notified that failure to comply with any part of the solicitation may result in rejection of their Response as non-responsive. Rejected, non-responsive Responses will not be scored. State Parks will not be liable for any errors or omissions in Consultant's Response. Consultants will not be allowed to alter their Response after the Response Submission Deadline.

It is the responsibility of each Consultant to carefully read, understand, and follow all the instructions contained in this RFQ, and in any future amendments. If a Consultant does not fully understand any Response requirement, said Consultant should submit an inquiry to the Procurement Coordinator. Consultants are hereby notified that failure to comply with any solicitation requirement may result in the Response being rejected as non-responsive. State Parks reserves the right to waive any administrative, minor irregularity in a Response, but it is not required to do so.

7.5 CLARITY AND CLARIFICATIONS

State Parks will make the sole determination of clarity and completeness of the Responses. No Response may be altered or amended after the submission deadline; however, State Parks reserves the right to contact a Consultant for clarification of responsive contents if necessary. NOTE: This clarification process is only used to clarify information that was contained within the Response; it is not a means of providing or incorporating new information that was otherwise not initially included. Evaluators have no obligation to seek or request a clarification; they may evaluate the response as provided.

7.6 COST OF RESPONSE PREPARATION

State Parks will not reimburse Consultants for any costs associated with preparing or presenting a Response to this solicitation.

State Parks will not be liable for any costs incurred by the Consultant in preparation or presentation of a responsive Response to this RFQ.

State Parks will not pay for any costs accrued prior to a mutually executed contract resulting from this RFQ.

7.7 OWNERSHIP OF RESPONSES

All Responses and materials submitted in response to this RFQ become the property of State Parks. State Parks has the right to use information or adaptations of information that is presented in a response, unless the information is marked "Proprietary" and is not: (1) already known to State Parks prior to receipt of the information in the Response or materials submitted in response to this RFQ, (2) subsequently disclosed to State Parks by a third party who has the lawful right to make such disclosure, or (3) lawfully publicly available. Selection or rejection of the offer will not affect this right.

7.8 FINAL SELECTION & NO OBLIGATION

State Parks reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to reject all responses without penalty and not to issue a contract as a result of this solicitation. State Parks further reserves the right to cancel or reissue this RFQ prior to execution of a contract, if it is in the best interest of State Parks to do so, as determined by State Parks in its sole discretion.

7.9 INCORPORATION OF RESPONSE IN CONTRACT

The Consultant's response, including all promises, warranties, commitments, and representations made in the successful Response, are binding and shall be incorporated by reference into State Parks' contract with the Consultant.

7.10 AGREEMENT TO STATE PARKS CONTRACT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Attached as Exhibit A is a draft document that includes State Parks' contract terms and conditions. These terms and conditions will be incorporated into the final contract between State Parks and the Apparent Successful Consultant. Each Consultant's submission of its Response confirms that Consultant's consent to these terms and conditions.

7.11 STATEWIDE VENDOR PAYMENT REGISTRATION

Consultants are urged to be registered in the Statewide Vendor Payment system, prior to submitting a request for payment under this Contract. The Washington State Office of Financial Management (OFM) maintains a central contractor registration file for Washington State agencies to process contractor payments.

To obtain registration materials go to the Statewide/Vendor Payee Services (SWPS) website at <https://ofm.wa.gov/it-systems/statewide-vendorpayee-services> . The registration form has two parts. Part 1 is the information required to meet the above registration condition. Part 2 allows State Parks (and other state agencies) to pay invoices electronically with direct deposit. This is the most efficient method of payment and vendors are encouraged to sign up.

7.12 MINORITY WOMEN OWNED AND VETERAN OWNED BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

In accordance with the legislative findings and policies set forth in chapter 39.19 RCW, and RCW 43.60A.200 and 39.22.240, the State of Washington encourages participation by veteran owned business enterprises and Minority & Women Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE), either self-identified or certified by, respectively, the Department of Veterans Affairs or the Office of Minority & Women's Business Enterprises (OMWBE). While the State does not give preferential treatment, it does seek equitable representation from the veteran owned business and minority and women's business communities.

Participation by veteran owned and MWBE Consultants may be either on a direct basis in response to this RFQ or as a subconsultant to a prime Consultant. However, no preference will be given in the evaluation of Responses, no minimum level of MWBE or veteran-owned business participation shall be required, and Responses will not be evaluated, rejected or considered non-responsive on that basis.

Consultants may contact the Office of Minority & Women's Business Enterprises (OMWBE) at <https://omwbe.wa.gov/about-omwbe/contact-us-directions> and/or the Department of Veterans Affairs at <https://dva.wa.gov/veterans-their-families/veteran-owned-businesses/vob-search> to obtain information on certified firms for potential sub-contracting arrangements or for information on how to become certified.

7.13 SUBCONSULTANT PARTICIPATION MONITORING AND REPORTING

Once a contract is awarded through the solicitation or proposal process, the awarded Prime Consultant is obligated to complete the vendor registration in Access Equity. Access Equity is a secure online vendor management system (B2GNow). Confidential information (Tax ID, etc.) will not be published. Prime Consultants that have previously registered with B2Gnow for any public entity, must verify the system has updated information. Consultants can access the system at <https://omwbe.diversitycompliance.com/> or through a direct link on the Office of Minority and Women's Business Enterprises (OMWBE) website at: <https://omwbe.wa.gov/>.

Each month during the contract, the Prime Consultant will report payments to ALL Subconsultants through the Access Equity system. This monthly reporting information includes total payment in dollars made to the Subconsultant, payment dates, and any additional information required to verify payment to Subconsultant. The Prime Consultant will enter this payment information into the Access Equity system, and the Subconsultants will verify this payment information in the system. Online training is available through the Access Equity/B2Gnow system. This requirement applies to both Prime Consultants and Subconsultants.

7.14 PUBLIC DISCLOSURE & PROPRIETARY INFORMATION

State Parks is subject to the Public Records Act, chapter 42.56 RCW. Submittals and evaluations may not be disclosed while the RFQ is pending (RCW 39.26.030); however, all of the submissions and evaluations may be disclosed after the announcement of the Apparent Successful Consultant. Portions of a Consultant's Response may be protected from disclosure through the process set forth below.

If a Consultant wants to protect any Proprietary Information that is included in its response, the information must be clearly identified by Consultant as Proprietary Information. Each page containing information that is claimed to be exempt from disclosure must be clearly identified by the word "Proprietary" printed on the lower right-hand corner of the page.

Any attempts to overly restrict disclosure through use of footers on every page and/or other like statements restricting disclosure will not be honored and may subject Consultant to disqualification.

State Parks will maintain the confidentiality of all information marked Proprietary to the extent consistent with the Public Records Act. If a public disclosure request is made to view Consultant's Proprietary Information, State Parks will notify the Consultant of the request and of the date that the Proprietary Information will be released to the requester unless the Consultant obtains a court order from a court of competent jurisdiction enjoining that disclosure. If the Consultant fails to obtain the court order enjoining disclosure, State Parks will release the Proprietary Information, on the date specified.

State Parks sole responsibility shall be limited to maintaining the Consultant's true and actual Proprietary Information in a secure area and to notify Consultant of any request(s) for disclosure for so long as State Parks retains Consultant's information in State Parks records. Failure to so label such materials or failure to timely respond after notice of request for public disclosure has been given shall be deemed a waiver by Consultant of any claim that such materials are exempt from disclosure.

Consultant may seek the information from all other Responses once the Apparent Successful Consultant is announced.

7.15 CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLIANCE

The Director of the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission, in accordance with the provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (78 Stat. 252, 42 U.S.C. §§ 2000d to 2000d-4) and the Regulations, hereby notifies all Consultants will be afforded full opportunity to submit submittals in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of the owner's race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, income-level, or LEP in consideration for an award. State Parks will also affirmatively ensure that any contract entered into pursuant to this solicitation will require full incorporation of these rights in relation to all employees, personnel, and agents of the Consultant.

Dec 4, 2023

Attn: Paul Knowles
WA State Parks
East Side Trails Coordinator

Synopsis of October 23, 2023 Trail 290 Site Visit

The day of my site visit was cool and damp with mixed clouds, free of snow but with ample moisture in the soil, an excellent day for a site visit with no other trail users present.

My approach to investigating Trail 290 was to experience the trail in multiple ways and take note of all applicable details that shape a trail experience, i.e. the environment through which the trail passes, original layout and construction methods, intended trail style, intended users, individual features, unique attributes, obvious trouble spots, problem erosion areas and the overall flow and challenge.

My approach to formulating recommendations was to use the observations from the aforementioned list and develop a plan to enhance the positive attributes and minimize the negative attributes of the trail, all within a realistic framework that honors the current route and intent of the original trail builders, enhances the intended rider experience and minimizes long term maintenance.

Investigatory methods included hiking the trail in both directions with special attention paid to soil type, erosion issues and surrounding flora, riding the trail straight through, riding the trail in segments, "sessioning" spots that felt awkward and finally, re-hiking the trail and flagging potential reroutes while reflecting on what I had learned while riding. Grade was measured throughout the trail using an inclinometer. I rode a Specialized Enduro while on-site, assuming that a pedal friendly, long travel enduro bike is likely the most common type of mountain bike ridden on Trail 290. I also rode L'Upper 290, the machine built trail directly below the finish of Trail 290, for reference, with the knowledge that L'Upper 290 is intended to be more "flow" focused than Trail 290.

The following pages detail my observations and recommendations.

Observations:

Soil - The prevalence of granitic rock is immediately evident at the upper elevations of Mount Spokane, which originated as an intrusion of magma cooled to granite known as a pluton, with large fields of fractured granite scree and boulders. This environment has led to a soil type composed almost entirely of decomposed granite, or DG, a soil type with poor bonding structure when dry. Trail 290 begins at the summit of Mt Spokane where the granite is only modestly broken down, littering the coarse and shallow surface soil with chunky granite shards and blocks. Minimal plant life has broken down the coarse DG at the upper elevations, resulting in a soil type very susceptible to erosion, especially to the type of lateral forces that mountain bike tires impart on a trail tread. Lower down, the DG grains decrease in size thanks to the active root growth and soil holding capabilities of denser forests and undergrowth. Long term mixing with organic compounds from the surrounding vegetation and ash from the 1980 Mt St Helens eruption has resulted in a more diverse, finer grain soil that compacts better within the trail tread and holds up to frictional forces better than the fragile upper reaches. That said, the entire trail is built with some form of DG, and erosion will always play a major role in the long term development and maintenance of Trail 290.

Forest - Small forest stands near the summit support subalpine fir and spruce surrounded by open slopes of various types of brush and beargrass. Trail 290 travels through some of these forest stands up high but generally stays out in the open. Lower down, brush becomes much more dense and the trail becomes increasingly forested, with Douglas Fir, Larch, Lodgepole, Hemlock and other species flanking the trail. Numerous downed trees are in various states of decomposition. Many sturdy tree root structures are present in the trail tread, helping guard against erosion.

Initial Trail Thoughts - While first hiking Trail 290, the following occurred to me: 1) This is an expert DH trail. 2) Wonder if one can hold speed out of those awkward corner exits. 3) Wow, some of those corners are steep and rutted, especially for a trail that's only been open for months. 4) Some of the upper traverses look like speed/flow killers that would force excessive pedaling. 5) Looks like a fun ride. 6) Builders should have used a mini-excavator in more spots. 7) Mini-ex operators would need to be highly skilled and comfortable in steep, rocky terrain.

First Ride Thoughts - Riding the trail straight through for the first time, the following occurred to me: 1) This damp dirt is in far better shape than it would be during the middle of summer. 2) The first left hand turn approach is awkward. 3) The first right hander sets the tone for the rest of the steep, fall away, rutted corners. 4) The chunky surface boulders are a feature, not a bug. 5) The steep tech sections are fun challenges and should stay as built. 6) Capture berms out of steep tech sections need to be bigger and longer. 7) The big ruts in corners will get much deeper in a short time and will become unrideable without rerouting of some sort. 8) The long wooded traverse of the bottom part of the trail is a great ride but needs some grade reversals for long term erosion mitigation. 9) The last few hundred feet are way too steep and send riders into an intersection with too much speed. 10) Overall, the top half of the trail is an expert level tech trail with elements of flow, while the lower half is a classic intermediate level natural singletrack traverse with decent flow.

Trail Sessioning Thoughts - Investigating and sessioning trail segments led me to the following conclusions: 1) Awkward corner exits leading to flatter trail segments force too much pedaling and could be fixed by creating more rounded corner shapes. 2) Many of the steep corners have been built where soil deposits are deep for ease of building, which means that the ruts could become as deep as the soil deposits, i.e. very deep. 3) At a bare minimum, the apexes of many of the corners need to be pushed farther out to minimize grade. 4) Some of the corners need to be doubled up to minimize grade, i.e. two corners become four. 5) Many corner locations are hemmed in by boulder fields, possible springtime hydrological issues, and/or the chairline, complicating corner fixes. 6) Flow can be increased dramatically without sanitizing, or “dumbing down” Trail 290. 7) All surface roots in the tread should be maintained as they are because they play a critical role in holding soil in place, add challenging character and help maintain the health of the surrounding forest.

Final Observations - 1) The raw nature of the upper SE slopes of Mt Spokane dictate that Trail 290 remains an expert tech trail. 2) Despite its expert rating, the trail is accessible to adventurous intermediates willing to walk several cruxes. 3) Technicality is of an appropriately aspirational nature, i.e. the most challenging sections are safe environments for riders to enhance their technical skills without risking dangerous exposure. 4) With heavy use, the trail will always suffer the effects of erosion due to the non-binding nature of DG during the hot and dry summer months, but erosion can be minimized with thoughtful rebuilds and enhancement in critical areas. 5) The way Trail 290 begins raw and becomes slowly more friendly works very well for the merge into L'Upper 290 with its larger machine built berms. 6) This trail will get lots of use so making it as bombproof as possible should be the goal. 7) A mini-excavator and skilled operator will be critical in implementing any changes.

Recommendations:

General:

- 1) Create construction documents detailing specific trail modifications, reroutes, methodology and general workflow for Trail 290 improvements.
- 2) Field locate, stake and label work locations within and around the trail corridor.
- 3) Produce an RFP based on the construction documents and field marking, in order to put the project out to public bid.
- 4) Hire an established mountain bike trail building company with operators experienced in operating mini excavators in rugged, exposed, alpine environments.

Project Goals:

- 1) Follow the existing trail route as much as possible.
- 2) Maintain similar character so the trail will feel similar, but better to riders.
- 3) Continue to use entirely local dirt and rock during modification.
- 4) Mitigate current erosion issues.
- 5) Look ahead to minimize future erosion issues.
- 6) Increase flow and exit speed of corners.
- 7) Add bermed turns where necessary to minimize erosion and control speed.
- 8) Enhance flow and speed of flatter technical sections.
- 9) Increase the size of capture berms below technical sections.
- 10) Eliminate excess speed where Trail 290 meets Trail L'Upper 290.

Detailed Project Goals:

- 1) Within the general trail corridor, lessen the overall grade. Existing trail grade averages approximately 14%. Fall away berms are well over 30% grade. Estimated average grade after modifications will be 11-12%, which will allow for bermed corner sequences to stay in the 10-15% range. Overall grade will remain steep, but much of the vertical drop occurs within the technical portions of the trail. Long traversing segments are between 6% and 10%, which is relatively resistant to erosion, especially once water is consciously guided off the trail.
- 2) Keep the majority of the boulder moves and surface roots intact. This will allow riders a very similar experience to the existing trail. The goal, besides minimizing maintenance, is to eliminate “flow killing” segments of the trail. The trail was built with numerous flat to uphill sections after corners, likely in an effort to control speed. Many of the corners, however, are too rutted and steep to maintain speed throughout, and end either too soon or with too small a berm, leaving riders barely moving as they exit corners. This design results in low speed approaches to flat and frequently technical sections between corners, which results in unnecessary pedaling in the midst of what is meant to be a downhill trail. There are also three separate traverse sections that are too flat for the level of raw and rocky terrain present, once again “killing the flow”. With proper excavator manipulation of the rocks in these sections, a raw and rocky pump track experience could be created, maintaining the technical nature of the traverses but giving riders something functionally dynamic to aim for. Many sections of trail will remain untouched.
- 3) Work entirely with locally found materials. This will allow the trail to not only remain familiar, but blend into the surrounding environment in the long run, eliminating the potential to introduce invasive species. Avoiding wooden structures will eliminate future maintenance and safety headaches for land managers. Rock for armoring sections, if deemed appropriate, can be harvested on-site.
- 4) Mitigate the severe erosion issues on the aforementioned steep, fall away hand built corners. The steepest sections of trail are technical chutes comprised primarily of rock, which means that these sections will erode slowly and maintain similar character for years. A few corners are also built largely of rock, so these features also won't erode dramatically, but the steep dirt corners will require minor rerouting along with major excavation and rock placement to build up the berm walls, elevate the lower half of the corners and, most importantly, push the apexes farther out past the fall line. If possible, these corner rebuilds will also involve the establishment of a grade reversal just above the corner in order to keep water from sheeting into the corner itself. Using large flat boulders as the riding surface in certain corners is another way to mitigate erosion, although this style of corner can take a lot of effort to get right. Two spots have been identified as being so steep and with such dramatic vertical drop as to recommend additional bermed corners.

- 5) Keep potential erosion issues from becoming problems. Future and less obvious erosion issues are easy to ignore on Trail 290 because of the dramatic nature of the eroded corners. Generally, grade reversals should be added wherever possible and appropriate. The longer traverse segments on the bottom half of the trail are the most obvious candidates for grade reversals. Some of the longer open runs have no obvious water shedding for hundreds of feet. Water will leave the tread wherever the trail enters a brief technical woods section, since the roots and rocks will divert water naturally, but the long smooth sections will benefit from long radius grade reversals. Rollers also enhance the flow of a trail.
- 6) Enhance the flow and exit speed of corners. All but one existing corner is recommended for minor to major modification. Fixing the bermed corners as described in (4) above will not only help mitigate erosion, but greatly enhance the overall flow of the trail, eliminating “dead spots” where riders are searching for momentum. A properly shaped berm with a round apex and reasonable grade allows riders to stay off the brakes throughout the turn, using the outward G-forces to remain firmly planted on the riding line of the berm and exit with greater speed.
- 7) Add bermed turns in select spots to help minimize erosion and make a better trail experience. Four locations have been identified which will benefit from adding turns. One location involves a steep fall away right hand turn with room to add two “back and forth” chicane berms, a second location consists of a very steep fall away turn into another that should be rebuilt into four berms, the third is located in the middle of a fast traverse and would involve a long grade reversal leading to three berms where there are currently none, while the final spot is just above the end of the trail. This final location is the biggest reroute of the current trail and takes advantage of great dirt on gentle grades in a beautiful forest and allows the entire exit to be reengineered into a fun, flowy, lower speed section.
- 8) Modify the flatter technical sections for better flow. As mentioned in (2) above, there are three chunky technical trail sections that are very low angle and could benefit from creative manipulation of existing rock to create a minor pumptrack feel. These sections may ride better, however, as the corners above them are rebuilt, allowing for faster entry speeds. These sections should only be modified if the trail above doesn’t generate enough speed to comfortably maintain momentum across the flats.

- 9) Create larger, more aggressive “capture berms” below the various rocky chutes along the upper route. Nothing beats the feeling of letting off the brakes in a steep technical zone, knowing that there’s a predictably hefty berm tall enough to grab a skilled rider’s bike and aim it towards the next feature. Capture berms also allow lesser skilled riders to attempt technical chutes that they might otherwise never attempt.
- 10) Mitigate exit speed. Currently there are two super steep berms that throw riders into an intersection with more speed than necessary. These two berms will also eventually turn into deep ruts, although they aren’t badly worn yet. As referenced in (7) above, this lower section is part of a 1000 ft reroute of the whole bottom zone. The reroute would take advantage of ideal forest, terrain and soil, and could be the flowiest section of the entire trail, setting up riders into the proper mindset for the next trail.

A photograph of a dirt trail winding through a forest. The trail is a light brown color, contrasting with the dark brown soil and green grass. It curves from the left towards the right in the middle ground. The forest is composed of tall, thin evergreen trees with green needles. The ground is uneven, with patches of grass, small rocks, and some fallen branches. The sky is visible through the tree canopy, showing a mix of blue and white clouds. The overall scene is a natural, outdoor setting.
